Description: Background

NHMRC e-ASIA JRP scheme will support Australian participation and collaboration in leading international collaborative research through the e-ASIA Joint Research Program (e-ASIA JRP). The Joint Research Program formulates and supports international joint research projects in the East Asia region.

The e-ASIA JRP selects research projects through an open call for proposals. Fields of cooperation are decided among the e-ASIA participating member organisations and funding is for up to three years.

Eligible Topics

NHMRC is supporting Australian researchers for the following research topics in the e-ASIA JRP health research 8th joint call:

- Infectious Diseases
- Antimicrobial and multi-drug resistance
- Cancer

Further information on the e-ASIA JRP 8th Health Call is available from the e-ASIA website:
<http://www.the-easia.org/jrp/>

Eligibility: Applications will only be accepted from NHMRC approved Administering Institutions. A list of NHMRC approved Administering Institutions and NHMRC's Administering Institution policy are available on NHMRC's website.

<https://nhmrc.gov.au/funding/manage-your-funding/nhmrcs-administering-institutions>

Applications must satisfy all the requirements set out in the NHMRC e-ASIA Joint Research Program Grants 2019 Guidelines.

Applications will be excluded from consideration if the following eligibility requirements are not met:

- There must be a minimum of three member organisations participating in a call topic.

- Applications specific to each participating member organisation must be completed by the Chief Investigator A (CIA) in their country (e.g. Australian CIA submit to NHMRC while the Japanese CIA submit to Japan Agency for Medical Research and Development).

Grant Activity Timeframe: Three (3) years

Total Amount Available (AUD): $3,000,000.00

Instructions for Application Submission: Applications must also be approved through the e-ASIA JRP process to be eligible for funding from NHMRC.

Applications must be submitted electronically using NHMRC's online Research Grants Management System (RGMS) unless otherwise advised by NHMRC.

A complete NHMRC e-ASIA JRP Scheme application must consist of the following:

- Completion of Parts A and B of the application form;
- The relevant information in the applicants RGMS Profile;
- The uploaded PDF document containing your Research Proposal; and
- A PDF copy of the e-ASIA common application form. The Lead Principal Investigator of the collaborative project is required to submit a common application form to the e-ASIA Program Secretariat.

The joint application form can be found on the e-ASIA website: <http://www.the-easia.org/jrp/>

Other Instructions: Minimum data must be entered into NHMRC's granting system by 17:00 AEDT on 3 April 2019.

Value of individual grants will be pro rata based on the number of successful applications.
